

Presentation of Global Citizen Award at
Webster Hall's Quarterly Arts Soirée to Benefit
Orphans International Worldwide Haiti

February 9, 2010

Dear Lana,

On Sunday Feb. 28, the historic Webster Hall in the East Village will open its doors for its first Quarterly Arts Soirée to connect the neighborhood and NYC to the world through the arts.

They have designated Orphans International Worldwide – and our projects in Haiti – as the beneficiary of this unprecedented, 24-hour Art-a-thon. OI is associated with the United Nations.

They have agreed to allow us to present a series of awards to the New Yorkers we feel best personify Global Citizenship. People like you. I would therefore like to present to you our

Orphans International Worldwide
2010 Global Citizenship Award for Leadership in Helping Humanity

Please have a staff member e-mail us or call directly at (212) 755-7302 to let us know if you will be able to accept this honor. If so, we can schedule your acceptance to best fit your schedule on Sunday, February 28.

Further, as a writer for the New York Times, Huffington Post, and Daily Kos, I would like to do a profile about you as a Thought Leader & Global Citizen before or after the event.

Please note that the children of Orphans International Haiti outside Jacmel survived unscathed, and our home there is still standing.

We plan to roll out OI Family Care outside devastated Port-au-Prince, working with Haiti's founding family, the Toussaint family, along with international funders. See below.

I will be flying down to Port-au-Prince myself on March 5 to coordinate our relief efforts in Léogâne and Jacmel.

I am well aware of the enormous number of people you have met as a global citizen. In the interest of time let me direct your staff to some links towards due diligence:

Webster Hall. Quarterly Arts Soiree. Orphans International Worldwide (Wikipedia). New York Times. Huffington Post. Daily Kos. BBC. And of course, me (video).

If you would like to nominate another person for the award, please let us know.

Warm Regards,

Jim Luce
Founder & C.E.O.
